Research Independent Study
Application and Approval Process

Overview

Independent study enables a student to pursue for course credit individual interests under the supervision of a faculty member. Independent study is of two types: Independent Study (non-research) and Research Independent Study. Child Policy Research Certificate applicants will select “Research Independent Study” as the independent study type.

Courses entitled Research Independent Study are individual research in a field of special interest under the supervision of a faculty member, the central goal of which is a substantive paper or written report containing significant analysis and interpretation of a previously approved topic. Such research independent study courses bear a Research (R) code and satisfy general education Research requirements.

If you choose to complete your independent study in child policy, you will register for course ChildPol 393 and follow the instructions below. You may also be able to use a research independent study in another department (e.g., Psy 393 or Soc 393) or an honors thesis to fulfill this requirement. Students wishing to pursue this avenue should consult with the certificate director.

Process

Follow these procedures for requesting and obtaining approval for a research independent study in child policy.

1. Identify a faculty member who is willing to supervise your independent study
   a. Students wishing to register for a research independent study must first make arrangements with a faculty member having expertise in the desired area.
   b. If you are having trouble identifying a mentor, a list of potential child policy mentors is available here.

2. Meet with faculty to set goals, readings, and a timeline + proposal.
   a. The student and instructor should agree on the:
      - Independent study title
      - Plan of study
      - Objectives and expectations
      - Meeting schedule
      - The nature of the final product and grading criteria

3. Process for getting the independent study approved:
   a. Meet with your faculty mentor to complete this FORM (see below for details on form completion)
   b. The form should get submitted automatically to Katie Rosanbalm, Certificate Program Director, but email katie.rosanbalm@duke.edu if you do not get a confirmation email.

4. Once approved, the Certificate Program Director will provide you with the following to enroll:
   a. A course number
   b. A section number
   c. A permission number
5. During the semester, you must complete 180 hours, including meetings with your supervising faculty and your own research/reading, to earn 1.0 credit for your independent study.

6. Schedule regular meetings with your supervising faculty. It’s ideal to meet at least once every 2 weeks during the fall or spring semester and once a week during summer.
